

Elections 2008

Monday, 09 August 2004

Buzztrend is closely monitoring the buzz on a number of elections this year, among them the Spanish and the US election.

As we have successfully done in the past with the French and the Belgium election in 2007, we look for trends and shifts in the political debate online.

Our findings from the blogosphere on issues at stake in the Spanish election are published regularly on <http://www.eleccionesgenerales-2008.com/> (In spanish), and we will soon publish our first impressions from the buzz surrounding the US election.
